ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUG ABUSE TREATMENT

If you need help for an alcohol or other drug-related problem and don’t have insurance or the ability to pay, the phone number listed below can direct you to places which may be able to help. Whether you’re in need of an assessment, sober housing, a support group like Alcoholics Anonymous, or a treatment program, there is hope.

Call United Way 2-1-1, 24 hours a day/7 days a week if you need to find a place for help.

To help you understand your options, the following information may be helpful for you or someone you know.

- Agencies that offer treatment provide an assessment as a first step. An assessment involves collecting information from you to help determine if treatment is needed and if so, what type.

- Detox helps lessen the body’s physical need for alcohol or specific other drugs. This is only needed and available in certain cases. Services are generally offered over a three- to seven-day period.

- Inpatient or residential treatment programs require you to stay at the treatment center while you are involved in the program. Stays can last 30 days or longer.

- Partial hospitalization programs do not require you to live at the treatment center, but they have a schedule similar to an inpatient or residential treatment program. You generally have to attend the program every weekday for a full day.

- Outpatient treatment programs do not require you to live at the treatment center and don’t require as much time as partial hospitalization programs. Services can range from a few hours per week to three hours per day, three days a week, for several weeks.

- Counseling is generally offered on a one-to-one basis, but may also be offered in a group. Counseling services usually have a specific focus and sessions are scheduled at mutually convenient times.

- Aftercare programs offer structured support (generally one to two hours per week) for people who have completed treatment and want additional help to maintain an alcohol- and drug-free lifestyle.

- Support groups offer peer-to-peer support and information to help in the ongoing recovery process. See the next page for a list of the most common

CHILD SUPPORT AND CHILD CUSTODY

Child Support Tips:
• The parent paying child support is called the NON CUSTODIAL PARENT or OBLIGOR.
• The parent receiving child support is called the CUSTODIAL PARENT or OBLIGEE.
• A Support Order tells you how much child support must be paid each month. If you have to pay child support, you are still responsible for that amount the whole time you are in prison. In fact, the total amount you owe keeps increasing unless payments are being made on your case.
• If you are incarcerated, check with your worker. Depending on the nature of your incarceration, you may be eligible for a modification of your order.
• Notify the Cuyahoga Job and Family Services - Office of Child Support Services any time your address, phone number or employment changes.
• If you are the one that is owed child support, contact the Cuyahoga Job and Family Services - Office of Child Support Services to see what you can do to start collecting again once you are released.
• Do not make payments directly to the custodial parent. Money paid directly to the Obligee is considered a gift and will not count towards a Child Support payment.
• Pay the amount you owe each month. If you are having trouble paying this amount, contact the Office of Child Support Services right away. You might be able to get your payment changed through a Support Order Modification if the case qualifies.

Support Order Modification
In some cases, you may qualify to get your Support Order modified (changed) while you are in prison or right after you get out, so the amount you have to pay each month is less. This process takes several months. Modification does not help with what you already owe. Your new payment amount would not start until the first day of the month after the modification is approved. Because the State of Ohio does not consider being in prison a reason not to pay child support, you must qualify for modification under one of the following reasons:
• 36 months have passed since the establishment of the Support Order or the last review process
• Loss of employment for 30 consecutive days or more
• Verified disability
• 30 percent change in gross income
• To determine the availability of health insurance

Ask your institution if they will accept and keep a packet of clothing for you to wear when you are going home and what your family or friends will have to do to get the clothing to you.

If you do not have family or friends to help with clothing and you need clothing right after you are released, try the following:

- If you are staying at a homeless shelter or seeking help from an agency that helps the formerly incarcerated, ask them if they can provide you with some clothing. Sometimes they can help if clothing is available.

EDUCATION
If you are in an employment program or are working with an agency that helps ex-offenders, ask them if they may be able to help you find or pay for your education. You may also try the options listed on the following pages.

GED
Improving your reading and math skills may increase your chances of getting a job. If you did not finish high school, your first step is to work toward a GED. A GED is a certificate for people who did not finish high school and do not have a high school diploma. In order to get a GED, you will need to pass a GED test. There are programs that will help you improve your skills so you can earn your GED.

The Adult Basic Literacy Education (ABLE) Program offers help for adults who want to improve their basic reading and math skills or prepare for the GED test. Some places offer English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL), social studies, science, employment skills, and citizenship preparation. These classes are free of charge but there will be a fee for the GED test. The test must be taken by computer and the cost to take the test is $120.

To find places offering GED classes to help prepare for the test, call United Way 2-1-1.

Paying for School / Financial Aid
There are services available to help you pay for your education. Call the Financial Aid Office at the school where you would like to attend and ask about the different types of aid that may be available. If you are in an employment program, ask them for help with finding money to help pay for your education.

There is money offered through the federal government, state government and schools which may be available to you to help you pay for your education. If you are looking for help to pay for school, you should complete and submit the FAFSA – Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Under federal law, students who were convicted of drug crimes prior to their enrollment and application for federal financial aid will not be subject to a delay or a denial of aid due to their conviction. However, students who are convicted of a drug offense while they are in school and receiving federal financial assistance will be subject to a denial of aid for a period of time as determined by the nature of their conviction.

EMPLOYMENT

1. Gather all documents that an employer would need to hire you.
Here are items you may need:
• Driver’s license or State ID
• Social Security card
• Original or certified copy of your birth certificate
• High School diploma, college diploma or GED
• Vocational certificates
• Inmate educational record/transcript
• Résumé
• A list of three references (names and phone numbers of people who can comment about your work ability)

2. Clean up your criminal record and credit report. Make sure wrong information gets fixed and see if you can have a past conviction or arrest expunged/sealed. See page 61 for information.

3. Understand your rights.
• An employer cannot generally use your arrest record to deny you a job.
• An employer may review your record of convictions and can consider the relationship between the conviction and the job in deciding whether to employ you. The employer has a lot of freedom when making this decision.
• An employer may conduct a background check on you. If the employer conducts the background check himself, he does not need your permission to do it. However, if the employer asks a third-party to do it (like a security company), they need to let you know and get your written permission. If they use anything in that report to deny you a job, you have to be provided with a copy of the report and a period of time to dispute the entries.

Towards Employment Our four-week training program
Call 216.696.5750 is the first step along your pathway to towardsonline.org success. We will help you to prepare for the job, get the job, keep the job and move into a career. New workshops start each month.

• There are laws in Ohio that prohibit people with certain convictions from working in some jobs. The types of jobs with legal prohibitions are generally in the areas of child care, education, law enforcement, nursing and home health care – areas where there are “vulnerable” populations like children and older adults. However, if you are interested in working in these fields, please be sure to check the Civil Impacts of Criminal Convictions under Ohio Law (CIVICC) database at http://civicohio.org. This database will allow you to see what employment restrictions currently exists as a result of your criminal conviction. Please note that some restrictions are time limited and although you may not be able to be employed in a position at the time of your release, you may be eligible for employment at a later period, i.e., after 1 year, 3 years, 5 years, etc.

• If you want a career where a professional license is required or helpful (such as a social worker), make sure you check with the agency that grants the license before you decide to go into that career. See if they will give a license to someone with your type of conviction. Many agencies do not have an outright ban on persons convicted of a criminal offense. Applying for the Certificate of Qualification for Employment may help (see p. 18).

• There are no specific laws that protect ex-offenders from job discrimination simply because they are ex-offenders, but there are laws that protect people from discrimination based on race, color, age (40 and older), sex, religion, national origin and disability. Sometimes it is hard to tell what caused the discrimination. If you think you were passed over for a job, or discriminated against in other ways that have to do with employment, you can file a Charge of Discrimination with the agency listed below. You can file a charge by telephone, in person or over the Internet. They will contact you after they receive it.
4. Learn about the Certificate of Qualification for Employment

Allows persons with certain criminal convictions to remove “collateral sanctions” or “civil impacts” that would bar them from certain types of employment or occupational licensing. If the collateral sanction is a felony, it must be one year since the individual has been released from incarceration or community control. If the collateral sanction is a misdemeanor, it must be more than six months since the individual has been released from incarceration or any term of community supervision. In all cases, the petition must be approved by the court of jurisdiction. To complete a petition you must list a collateral sanction related to their offense. To find collateral sanctions relating to an offense visit the Ohio Civil Impacts of Criminal Convictions (CIVICC) Database, www.opd.ohio.gov/CIVICC. The petition, and more information on filing it, is available online at: drccqfe.com. If you are trying to submit a petition and have questions contact:

5. Learn about Fidelity Bonding.

If you were convicted of a crime such as theft, forgery, embezzlement or other “dishonest” act, there is a free federal fidelity bonding program which may help you get a job. The fidelity bond is a short-term insurance policy for the employer. It reimburses the employer should you steal anything. You can let employers who are thinking about hiring you know about this program. There are a few things you should know:

- You have to have a job offer for permanent work (can be full or part-time).
- Coverage is up to $5,000 for six months.
- The employer should phone for information.

WOTC is a tax credit for the employer. It is meant to encourage employers to hire ex-felons and other people who might have a hard time finding a job. The employer could get as much as a $2,400 tax break per worker. You can let employers who are thinking about hiring you know about this program.

The employer just needs to complete two forms within a certain time period after the start-to-work date. Forms and directions are available from the agency listed next.

10. Consider temporary employment agencies.

These agencies place you in jobs at different companies for short periods of time. You are employed by the temporary agency, not the company. You may work at a company for one day, one week, or for many months. Temporary jobs can, but don’t usually, result in permanent employment. You are generally paid weekly.

It is a good idea to sign up with more than one temporary agency because each may have different job openings and pay rates. Make sure you understand exactly how much you will be paid, and what benefits are offered. Many temporary agencies do not offer health care or paid vacations. Always get information about your pay and benefits in writing and keep a copy.

For temporary agencies, you can look in the Yellow Pages under Employment Contractors - Temporary Help, look them up online, or contact the Cleveland Better Business Bureau for listings.

Cleveland Better Business Bureau .............................. 216-241-7678

11. Consider day labor temporary agencies.

These companies pay by the day. Day labor is not a substitute for permanent employment. Use it only for a short time and only if you cannot find another job. Make sure you understand exactly how much you will be paid, and what benefits are offered. Many temporary agencies do not offer health care or paid vacations. Always get information about your pay and benefits in writing, and that you keep a copy.

For temporary agencies, you can look in the Yellow Pages under Employment Contractors - Temporary Help, look them up online, or contact the Cleveland Better Business Bureau for listings.

12. Start your own business/entrepreneurial resources.

Starting your own business requires a business plan and money. Talk with one of the agencies listed below before you start up. They can provide free advice and guidance on self-employment.
Food

SNAP Food Assistance (Food Stamps)
The food assistance program is for those with low income and assets. Instead of food coupons, Ohio issues the Ohio Direction Card. It works like a debit card. Each month, money is transferred to the card electronically for you to buy food.

- People who have committed a felony may still qualify for food assistance.
- Single men and women may apply for food assistance. It is not necessary to have children in the household.
- As an example of potential eligibility; a single person with no children, under the age of 60, can make around $1,265 per month or $15,180 per year and still qualify. The income limit for those age 60 or older is slightly higher.
- If you think you might be eligible, you should apply.
- The maximum a one-person household may get is $200 a month.

If you recently lost a job, you will be asked to also apply for unemployment compensation when you apply for Food Assistance. You will still get Food Assistance right away, but your income will be budgeted.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 49, are not eligible for unemployment, do not work at least 20 hours per week, and you have no minor children in your home, you will need to participate in a work and training program in order to receive more than 3 months of Food Assistance. If you need help meeting the Food Assistance work requirement, you will be given a referral to a service coordination team for help with finding a work experience or job search program.

Food Pantries

Food pantries are places that will give you a free bag of groceries once a month or in emergency situations. Call United Way 2-1-1 for information about the pantry that serves your area.

- The bag is usually packed according to family size and has enough food for about three meals a day for three to five days.
- You can expect to get canned and boxed food such as cereal, pasta, tuna and soup. On occasion, you may be able to get fresh fruit, vegetables or meat.
- Some pantries will also give you personal hygiene products such as soap, toilet paper and toothpaste. Places that provide clothing or showers may also have these items. See pages 11 and 12 for more information.
- Most pantries request you to show proof of income, a photo ID and proof of where you live (like a utility bill). However, most will serve you ONCE without these items. If you have trouble getting a photo ID and need to go back to a pantry, call United Way 2-1-1 to see if there are any places that offer assistance with identification.
Health Care / Dental Care

It is very important that you have medical care. One way of getting care is to get health insurance. Most people get health insurance through their employer because it may be very expensive to get on their own. People who are low income, are disabled, or are 65 or older, may be able to get government health insurance to pay for their health care. If you don’t have health insurance, try the following options.

Medicaid

Medicaid is health insurance paid for by the government. It can be used to pay for medical services that may include doctor visits, prescription drugs, hospital care, home care, long-term care, medical equipment, transportation, mental health, vision, dental, substance abuse services and mental health services. Most clients will have to choose and enroll in a Managed Care Plan (MCP). For those age 19-64 and not on Medicare, financial eligibility is set at 138% of the Federal Poverty Limit (200% for pregnant women) and is based solely on the taxable income of applicant and their dependents, not household income.

Certain health care providers have agreed to accept Medicaid Insurance. When you seek care, you should always ask the provider if they accept Medicaid.

In some cases, Medicaid may be used to pay for some premiums and other expenses associated with Medicare. There are three of these Medicare Savings Programs: QMB, SLMB, and QI. Some services will have small fees you will have to pay. For seniors and disabled, Medicaid may pay for long-term care.

• You may apply for Medicaid on the day you are released from prison (enrollment takes 30 or more days).
• If you were eligible for Medicaid at the time you entered prison, and you were incarcerated for no longer than 12 months, you will be issued a temporary Medicaid card (good for 60 days). You must reapply for Medicaid during those 60 days.
• If you are 65 or older and low-income, or if you have qualified before for Social Security Disability or SSI, you may qualify automatically for Medicaid.
• Some hospitals and community clinics may screen for Medicaid applicants for presumptive eligibility, which means that if you meet all the requirements, it is assumed that you will be covered. For instance, you can apply for Medicaid and arrange for medical services on the same day.
• This program may help pay medical bills dating back three months from your application date but not further back than your date of release.
You can apply by phone through the Cuyahoga Benefits Hotline: 216-416-4440. You can also apply at your local Neighborhood Family Service Center. Call 216-987-7000 for locations. Or, you may apply online at ODJFSBenefits.ohio.gov (you will need to have an e-mail account to apply by website).

Medicare

Medicare is a health insurance program for people age 65 and older, or disabled people younger than 65, who have worked under the Social Security system or are dependents of someone who has. People with end stage renal disease (kidney failure) can also enroll in Medicare.

Medicare provides hospitalization coverage (Part A), medical insurance for things like doctor’s visits (Part B), and offers prescription drug coverage (Part D). Medicare Part C (also called Medicare Advantage Plan) is through private companies that provide Part A, Part B, usually Part D benefits to anyone eligible to enroll.

- When you go to prison, you do not lose your Medicare Part A (hospital insurance) benefit, so you don’t need to re-enroll.
- You will only lose your Part B (medical insurance) and Part D (medication) if you stopped paying for it while you were in prison.
- If you stopped paying for Medicare Part D, you should re-enroll within 63 days of release. Otherwise, you may be penalized for late enrollment or you may have to wait until the next enrollment period (October through December) for coverage to start in January. You may be subject to a higher premium when you re-enroll.
- If you stopped paying for Medicare Part B, you will have to re-enroll during the next enrollment period (January through March) for coverage to start in July.
- Medicare offers a subsidy to help pay costs associated with its Part D program. If you qualify based on your income (150% or less of the Federal Poverty Guidelines) and assets, it may pay part of your premium, deductibles, and/or co-payments for services provided under Part D. The amount of help varies depending on income, family size and the person’s resources.

Free or Low Cost Healthcare
Community clinics provide primary medical care for people who are uninsured or underinsured (some community clinics accept Medicaid, Medicare or other insurance). Services may be provided free of charge or, more commonly, for a fee that varies according to your income. Many clinics partner with a drug store or pharmacy so that you can get your medicine for free or for a reduced fee. Some clinics may have an on-site pharmacy that only their patients can use (they will not fill prescriptions written by other doctors). Most clinics require an appointment and you may need certain documents, so it is best to call ahead. Staff at the health clinic may be able to help you access “patient assistance” programs through drug companies so that you can get medicine for free or at a reduced cost.

Housing

At least eight months before you are released, you should start thinking about where you will live. Work with your case manager to create a plan. Case managers on the outside at the re-entry programs (see page 3 for a list) may also help you find housing. Think about the following options.

Permanent Housing

1. Living with family or friends.

   Living with family or friends may be your best option. When creating your Release Plan, you will want to include as many options as possible (up to four). If you are planning to live with family or friends, your Parole Officer needs to have complete names, phone numbers and addresses, including apartment numbers (if applicable). Do not use P.O. Box numbers. A Parole Officer will investigate your proposed placement. Issues such as family attitude, government housing, accessibility to weapons, available living space, and other residents will be considered. You might not be permitted to live in a residence with a co-defendant or victim of your current or past crime, or where another resident has a criminal history.

2. Rental housing.

   To find an apartment or house to rent, try the following:
   - Use the HousingCleveland.org website to find affordable rentals. You may also dial United Way 2-1-1 for information.
   - Look in the classifieds section of the local paper, The Plain Dealer, or try the free or local papers around town. The Plain Dealer apartment listing is also available on the web at realestate.cleveland.com/for-rent.
   - Walk or drive around the neighborhood you want to live in. For Rent signs are often posted on lawns and in windows.

Subsidized rental housing

Some rental housing is called subsidized because it is funded in some way by the government or by other sources. Because of this, you pay rent based on your income or a fixed rent that is generally less than other units on the market.

Some subsidized housing units can be found on the HousingCleveland.org website. You may also dial United Way 2-1-1 for information or try the resources listed in the following sections.

- Public housing: This is government-owned housing. There are two public housing agencies in Cuyahoga County — Cuyahoga Metropolitan Housing Authority (CMHA) and Parma Public Housing Agency. Parma Public Housing Agency is not accepting applications at this time but estimates they may begin accepting them by 2018 or 2019. All public housing may have long waiting lists — two years is not uncommon. However, this varies. Some persons (such as older adults or veterans) may be given priority for certain units and get in faster.

   There are income and other eligibility requirements that vary by public housing authority. There are also some specific restrictions affecting ex-offenders, but many ex-offenders may still qualify for public housing.

   You are generally expected to pay 30 percent of your income for rent.

Here are some rules of all public housing authorities:

- Federal law prohibits admitting households that include a member who has ever been convicted of methamphetamine production on the premises of federally funded housing.
- Federal law prohibits admitting households that include a member who is subject to a lifetime registration requirement under a state’s sex offender law.
- Ultimately, the housing authority may deny admission to any applicant whose habits and practices may reasonably be expected to have a negative effect on other tenants or on the facility.

CMHA-specific rules:

- You cannot be placed on the waiting list if you:
  - are over the income requirement or
  - are under 18 and not emancipated or
  - owe money to CMHA.

All others are permitted to apply and can be placed on the waiting list.

Full eligibility is not determined until you reach the top of the waiting list. This means that you may apply before you actually qualify for acceptance. Since you may be on the waiting list for several years, if you think that you may qualify for acceptance by the time your name reaches the top of the list, you should apply.

Those who have been convicted of the following crimes may apply, but will be barred from admission unless it has been at least one year since the completion of their sentence (your sentence includes legal supervision after being released).

- Felony drug-related criminal activity that involves the manufacture, sale or distribution, or the possession with the intent to manufacture, sell or distribute, a controlled substance.
- Homicide, rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, gross sexual imposition, child pornography, corruption of a minor, child endangerment, child enticement, arson, kidnapping or abduction.
Housing

There are other reasons that someone may be denied admission, including current alcohol or drug abuse, fraud in connection with certain housing programs, etc. In addition, any of the federal bans mentioned on the prior page will result in automatic denial of admission.

To be eligible, you must also have satisfactory references from previous landlord(s), have no outstanding rent balances at CMHA or any other subsidized housing, be able to obtain utilities in your name, agree to comply with the CMHA lease agreement, have a Social Security number or documentation supporting its non-existence, and be in good standing with any other subsidized housing program in which you have participated in the past.

If you provide untrue information about your situation on purpose, you will lose your CMHA housing or will not be allowed to stay on the waiting list for CMHA housing.

CMHA appeals process

If you were denied a place on the waiting list, or were determined ineligible and you think that it was wrong, you may appeal.

- You can request a review within 14 calendar days of your written notice of ineligibility/denial.
- The review must happen within 30 calendar days of receipt of your request.
- You can present oral or written objections and you may be represented by an attorney or any other person that you choose (but you must obtain your own attorney).
- The final decision must be made within three days of the informal review and the applicant must be notified of the final decision within five days of the decision date (not the informal review date).

Assistance with the appeals process

Try contacting the following free legal program:

Legal Aid Society of Cleveland ..................................................... 216-687-1900
lasclev.org
Helps those with incomes at or below 125 percent of the federal poverty guidelines. Currently (2013), this is approximately $14,000 a year for a family of one and $29,000 a year for a family of four. However, Legal Aid will consider applicants with income up to 200 percent of the federal poverty guidelines.

If you don't qualify for free help, you can try contacting the following agency to get a referral to an attorney:

Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association ...................................... 216-696-3532
clemetrobar.org

Housing Choice vouchers:

Housing Choice vouchers were formerly known as Section 8 vouchers. If you qualify for a voucher, you have to find a private landlord that is willing to lease to you and accept the voucher. You will generally only pay 30 percent of your income toward rent.

The two public housing agencies in Cuyahoga County each operate voucher programs. Neither has an open application process. Initial applications are generally accepted once every three to four years. These events will be publicized about 20-30 days ahead of time and people must apply as directed. Each agency holds a lottery and creates waiting lists from the forms submitted. The last lottery for Cuyahoga County was August 2015. There is no lottery scheduled in the immediate future. If a family’s name is on the waiting list, the housing authority will begin to process the application when the name comes to the top of the list. The family’s initial placement on the list is determined by a random selection process.

Assistance may be denied to households in which at least one member has had a felony-level criminal conviction (generally a violent or drug-related conviction) within the past three years. In some cases (such as a sex-offense conviction that results in the person being placed on a life-time sex-offender registry) assistance may be denied for life.

Homeless/Special Populations: People who are very low income and have special needs may not have to wait for the lottery to get a voucher. There are a certain number of Housing Choice Vouchers set aside for people with special needs. People who may qualify for these vouchers are youth who are aging out of the foster care system, people with AIDS, people with physical or mental disabilities, people with developmental disabilities, and people who are homeless. Even though you do not have to go through a lottery, there is a waiting list for these vouchers. Assistance for these vouchers may be denied for up to one year for those with certain felony convictions.

You apply for these vouchers at various participating agencies rather than through the public housing agencies. Please call United Way 2-1-1 for more information and a referral to these agencies.

Other Subsidized Housing for specific populations:

There are several organizations that offer subsidized housing to specific populations such as: those with HIV/AIDS, developmental disabilities, mental illness, and physical disabilities. Others provide housing based on age or income. In most cases, rent is based on a percentage of your income (generally, about 30%). Call United Way 2-1-1 for information on any of these housing options.

HUD Housing:

The US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds privately owned apartments for older adults, people who are physically disabled, and families. Waiting lists may be very long. Call, or use the website to get a list of these properties. You can then apply directly with the apartment manager.

Temporary Housing

1. Ex-offender halfway houses

Halfway houses are community residential programs providing supervision and treatment services for offenders released from state prisons, referred by Courts of Common Pleas or sanctioned because of a violation of conditions of supervision. Halfway houses provide services such as drug and alcohol treatment, electronic monitoring, job placement, educational programs, and specialized programs for sex offenders and mentally ill offenders. Some facilities may not accept violent offenders, sex offenders or those convicted of arson.

Some halfway houses offer the Transitional Control program which is available to inmates who are reviewed and determined eligible by the Ohio Parole Board. Upon the sentencing judge’s approval, appropriate inmates may be placed on Transitional Control and transferred to a halfway house to complete up to the last 180 days of their prison term. Employed offenders doing well in the program may be stepped down on electronic monitoring in an appropriate home placement. The emphasis of the Transitional Control program is to provide offenders with resources for employment, education, vocational training and treatment so that they may transition to their home community more successfully.

Halfway houses must meet standards set by the American Correctional Association (ACA) and licensing requirements of the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

The following is a list of ex-offender halfway houses in Cuyahoga County:

Community Assessment and Treatment Services ........................ 216-441-0200 8415 Broadway Ave., Cleveland, OH 44105

Oriana House .......................................................... 330-535-8116 1829 E 55th St., Cleveland, OH 44103

The Salvation Army Harbor Light Ex-Offender Program .......... 216-781-3773 1710 Prospect Ave., Cleveland, OH 44115

2. Substance Abuse Halfway Houses

Halfway houses for substance abuse are places that provide room and board, structured alcohol or other drug addiction treatment services, individual counseling and living skills instruction for people with alcohol and other drug addictions. It is seen as a form of treatment, rather than housing, but it is one option if you have a substance abuse issue. Some halfway houses will only accept people who have been through their other treatment programs, or those who have a referral. There may also be other eligibility restrictions.
4. Shelter and Coordinated Intake

Shelters provide a temporary place to stay (usually a few days to a few weeks) for people who have no housing. These are places of last resort. They are also known as “emergency shelters”. There are shelters for specific populations such as those who are mentally ill, have disabilities, are older adults or are victims of domestic violence.

Intake for shelter services (as well as transitional housing) is by walk in M-F: 8:00am-8:00pm through Coordinated Intake (nighttime and weekend hours are different - call United Way 2-1-1 for details).

Coordinated Intake for Homeless Services at Bishop William Cosgrove Center
1736 Superior Ave., Cleveland, OH 44114
Provides assessment and placement for most emergency and transitional shelters in Cuyahoga County. Press intake intercom to be admitted to the building. Those needing shelter during intake hours are advised to arrive as early as possible.

IF YOU NEED SHELTER AFTER HOURS OR ON WEEKENDS:

Families with Children

If you do not have a safe place to stay for the night and you need to find shelter for yourself and your children, call United Way 2-1-1 for assistance.

Single Adults

If you are a single adult and you do not have a safe place to stay for the night, you may walk in to an emergency shelter to stay for the night. You will still need to go to Coordinated Intake at the Bishop William Cosgrove Center the next day it is open.

Men:

IDENTIFICATION / PAPERWORK

Record of Arrest and Prosecution (RAP Sheet)

Your criminal record may consist of your arrests, convictions and/or other dispositions (such as a dismissal of your case). Here are a few important things to remember:

- You may need to contact several different agencies to get complete information and to make sure all records are correct.
- Know what you want. Do you need only your arrest records, or do you want to see your dispositions (outcome of your case such as a dismissal)? Do you want to see felonies, misdemeanors, or both?
- If you just want to view a detailed record of your felony cases in Cuyahoga County, try the Clerk of Courts online database. It is free at www.coc.cuyahogacounty.us.
- If you want to make sure all records are correct, some people recommend starting your search with the city in which you were arrested and working your way up through the county.

Arrest Records

To get a copy of your arrests, it is best to start with the criminal records unit of the police department in which you were arrested. In Ohio, your arrest record is public information and anyone who has your identifying information can request it. However, employers are generally not allowed to use your arrest record (unless it leads to a conviction) to deny you a job.

Arrest records do not show whether the case was dismissed or if you were convicted. You have to go to the County Clerk of Courts, the State Bureau of Criminal Identification & Investigation, or a private security company for that information.

For your arrest record with the City of Cleveland Police, use the information listed below. For all other police departments, contact the city hall listed on page 86 for the correct number. If you were arrested by the Cuyahoga County Sheriff, see page 46.

It can take four to six weeks by mail. You will need to complete a request form. Be prepared to have the following:

- First name, last name and middle initial of the person who was arrested, including maiden name or any other names used
- Birth date and Social Security number of the person

Who is Considered Homeless? A person who lives in places not meant for human habitation, such as cars, parks, sidewalks and abandoned buildings. Also included are people who live in emergency shelters or transitional housing (when they originally come from the streets or an emergency shelter).

Out-of-County Information

If you have committed felonies in other counties in the State of Ohio, contact the police department, sheriff’s department and county clerk of court in that community for information.

You can also get a “background check” on yourself. The Attorney General’s Office for the State of Ohio provides Ohio Civilian Background Checks. You can view all felonies reported to them throughout Ohio. Information on these checks is available in the following section.

There are also private companies that offer background checks. In some cases, these are less expensive than the Ohio Civilian Background Checks. Be sure to check with the Better Business Bureau at 216-241-7678 or clevelandbbb.org to get information on these companies before giving them money.

Ohio Civilian Background Checks / State Criminal Repository Records

For a record of your Ohio felonies that have been reported to the State Attorney General's Office, you can request a civilian background check from the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information. A background check for offenses in Ohio is referred to as a BCI check; a background check for offenses nationwide is referred to as an FBI check. To do this, you must go to an agency that has an electronic fingerprint machine. Fees vary by location, but are usually around $30-$60.

To find a location near you, go to ohioattorneygeneral.gov. Scroll to the bottom of the screen and then click on “Webcheck Locations” (you can find this in the list under “Services”). You can search using your zip code to find a site close to you. Sites will be labeled as providing BCI and/or FBI checks. You should call for more information before you go.

Be prepared with the following:

• First and last name of the person who was arrested, including maiden name or other names used
• Birth date and Social Security number of the person
• Self-addressed stamped envelope (for mail requests)
• $6.00 fee per record – cash or money order only.

What to do if you’re stopped by the police

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO REMAIN SILENT AND NOT MAKE A STATEMENT. EXERCISE THIS RIGHT!

- Remember, anything you say or do can be used against you.
- Think carefully about your words, movement, body language, and emotions.
- Don't get into an argument with or lie to the police.
- Keep your hands where the police can see them.
- Don't run. Don't touch any police officer. Don't resist even if you believe you are innocent.
- Don't complain on the scene, tell the police they are wrong or that you are going to file a complaint or lawsuit.
- Do not make any statements regarding the incident.
- In order to preserve your right to remain silent, you must clearly tell the police officer that you are invoking your right to remain silent and then be silent.
- Ask for a lawyer immediately upon your arrest.
- Write down everything you remember ASAP. Remember officers’ badge and patrol car numbers. Try to find witnesses and their names, addresses and phone numbers.
- If you are injured, take photographs of the injuries as soon as possible, but make sure you seek medical attention first.
- What you say to the police is always important. What you say can be used against you, and it can give the police an excuse to arrest you, and search you and your car especially if you bad-mouth a police officer.
- You don't have to answer any questions asked by the police. However, you are required to provide your name, address, and date of birth upon request. You can be arrested in Ohio for refusing to provide this information.
- You should never consent to any search of yourself, your car, your cell phone or your house. If you DO consent to a search, it can affect your rights later in court. If the police say they have a search warrant, ASK TO SEE IT.
- Do not interfere with or obstruct the police—you can be arrested if you do.

IF YOU'RE STOPPED FOR QUESTIONING

- You are required to provide your name, address, and date of birth if a law enforcement officer asks. You may refuse to answer any additional questions.
- Police may pat down your clothing if they suspect you are carrying a weapon. You may not physically resist, but you should clearly state that you do not consent to any search.
- Ask if you are under arrest. If you are, you have a right to know why. If you are not under arrest you have the right to leave.
- Don't bad-mouth a police officer or run away, even if you believe what is happening is unreasonable. This could lead to your arrest.

IF YOU'RE STOPPED IN YOUR CAR

- If you're stopped in a car, you must show the officer your driver’s license, registration, and proof of insurance upon request. In addition, your passengers must provide name, date of birth, and address upon request.
- Police may frisk anyone in the car they believe may be armed.
- Your car can be searched without a warrant if the police have reason to believe that criminal activity is likely taking place, you have been involved in a crime, or you have evidence of a crime in your car. This includes containers in your car and the belongings of your passengers. To protect yourself later, you and your passengers should make clear that you do not consent to a search.
- If the stop leads to your arrest, the police may search the area of your vehicle that is within your reach at the time and officers may search your vehicle if they believe it contains evidence related to your arrest.
- If you’re given a ticket, you should sign it; otherwise you can be arrested. You can object later in court.
- If you’re suspected of drunk driving (OVI), the police may require you to take a physical or chemical test. If you refuse, your driver’s license will be suspended immediately. If you take the test and are over the limit, your license will be suspended immediately. You may appeal the license suspension later in court. If you have a prior OVI and refuse a test, you may face increased penalties if convicted.

IN YOUR HOME

- If the police ask to enter your home, you don’t have to admit them unless they have a warrant signed by a judge.
- However, in some emergency situations (if a person is screaming for help inside or the police are chasing someone who runs into your house) officers are allowed to enter and search your home without a warrant. This may include situations in which the police have approached your home, identified themselves, and then hear sounds or other activity that leads them to believe evidence is being destroyed.
- If you are arrested, the police can search you and the area close by, which usually means just the room you are in. Police may need a warrant to search other rooms in the home.

IF YOU'RE ARRESTED OR TAKEN TO A POLICE STATION

- You have the right to remain silent, but you must clearly tell the police officer that you are invoking it. Tell the police nothing except your name, address, and date of birth, if requested. Don’t give any explanations, excuses or stories. You can make your defense later in court, based on what you and a lawyer decide is best.
- Ask to see a lawyer immediately. If you can’t pay for a lawyer, you have a right to a free one, and should ask the police how a lawyer can be contacted. Don’t say anything without a lawyer.
- Within a reasonable time after your arrest or booking, you have the right to make a local phone call to a lawyer, bail bondsman, a relative, or any other person. The police may not listen to any calls made between you and a lawyer. Other phone calls, however, could be recorded, and what you say could potentially be used against you later in court.
- You are entitled to be taken before a judge on the next court day after you are charged. Sometimes you can be released without bail or have bail lowered. Ask your lawyer about this possibility.
- Do not make any decisions in your case until you have talked with a lawyer.

We all recognize the need for effective law enforcement, but we should also understand our own rights and responsibilities, in our relationships with the police. Everyone, including minors, has the right to courteous and respectful police treatment. If your rights are violated, don't try to deal with the situation at the scene. You can talk to a lawyer afterwards, file a complaint with the Internal Affairs Division or Civilian Complaint Board, or with the ACLU of Ohio at http://acluohio.org/about/ComplaintForm.htm.

Birth Certificates

A certified (official) birth certificate is often required when applying for a State ID, driver’s license, marriage license, passport, school enrollment, or to access other benefits. A certified birth certificate will generally have a raised, embossed, impressed or multicolored seal. Non-certified copies are not acceptable for legal purposes.

Ohio Birth Certificates can be obtained by visiting any vital statistics office in the state. Often these offices will be part of the health department, but not always. Fees vary, but in Ohio, you can expect to pay around $15-20. If you cannot pay for this, a social service agency may be able to help. If you are already working with an agency, ask them for assistance.

There are some places that may help you get your birth certificate even if you are not working with them, but the availability may change from month to month. You can call United Way 2-1-1 to see what help is available.

County and local offices usually process requests quicker than the state offices. The fastest way to obtain a birth certificate is in person (same-day). If you request it by mail, it may take 3-8 weeks from the time the request is received. Some offices may allow requests by phone with a credit card.

Services on the Internet such as www.vitalcheck.com can expedite delivery (7-10 business days) and can help you get out-of-state birth certificates, but you must pay by credit card and the cost is higher.

Be prepared with the following information to get your birth certificate:

- Your full name
- Your mother’s maiden name
- Your father’s full name (if available)
- Your month, day and year of birth
- Telephone number
- Place of birth - city/county/state; name of hospital (not needed if born in Ohio)
- Address where it will be sent (if mailed)
- Notarized sworn statement (California only)
- Photocopy of picture ID, if necessary (not required in Ohio)

Credit Reports

A credit report is a detailed history of how you pay your bills (whether they are on time or late) and how you manage your debt, loans and credit. In addition, public information such as judgments, bankruptcies and delinquent child support payments are included.

You should review your credit report periodically to make sure everything is accurate. It is not unusual for mistakes to occur, and you want to take care of those so they don’t affect your ability to get a job, rent an apartment, buy a home or get a credit card. Landlords, employers (with your permission) and others with legitimate business purposes can get a copy of your report.

The report may include a “credit score,” which is a number used to predict how credit-worthy you are. The higher the score, the better. You may benefit from talking with a credit counseling agency if you think you need help managing your credit. Here are helpful things to know:

- There are three companies (TransUnion, Equifax and Experian) that maintain credit reports, and each company may have different information.
- You can get a FREE copy of your credit report once every 12 months through the Annual Credit Report Request Service. You can request all three reports at once so you can compare them, or you can space them out so you can keep track of changes – as long as you don’t request the same report more than once in a 12-month period. However, your free copy does not include your credit score.
- You can also get a free copy of a report that was used to take an “adverse action against you” such as denying you employment, credit or insurance, as long as you request it within 60 days of receiving notice of the action. The notice will give you the name of who to contact to get the free copy.
There are other websites offering free credit reports and even credit scores; but some sites may cost you money even if they say they are free. The credit counseling services listed on page 74 can direct you to those websites that are truly free of charge.

DD-214 (Military Discharge Papers)

DD-214s are official discharge papers. This is proof that you were discharged from military service.

If you do not have a certified copy of your DD-214, it is important that you get and keep a copy. You may need a DD-214 to access many services available to veterans.

To get a copy of your DD-214:

Contact the National Archives and Records Administration and ask for form SF-180. You will need to complete the form and send it back by mail or fax. A written request may be sent without the form, but you should phone first or see the website for more information on what to send. You may also initiate your request through the website. Usually, copies of DD-214s are free.

If you find something that is wrong on your credit report, contact BOTH the company that produced the credit report and the company that provided the original information (such as a credit card company) to dispute the information.

If you are disputing a debt and/or you’ve been contacted by a debt collector who is not the original creditor, it is often recommend that you send a formal validation of debt letter to the collector. This is a request that they show proof that the debt is legitimate, that it is your responsibility to pay, and that they have to right to collect the debt from you. The debt collector is required to respond to you within five days. You have the right to dispute any incorrect debt within 30 days. If you do not dispute the debt in writing within the 30 days, the collector has the right to assume the debt is valid.

Generally, if you dispute something, the credit reporting company must begin to investigate it and make a note in your file or delete the error within 30 days of receiving your original request. They don’t have to FIX the error within 30 days, just note that they are working on it.

If you think you would benefit from credit or budget counseling, or you need help understanding your options, contact one of the nonprofit agencies listed on page 74.

To get a FREE copy of your credit report once every 12 months, contact the following. DO NOT call any other advertised service; they are usually trying to get money out of you, even if they say it is free.

Driver’s License / State ID

DRIVER’S LICENSE SUSPENSIONS

If you want to make sure that you have a valid Ohio driver’s license or you want to know what suspensions or blocks you have on your license, call the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV). They can give you information by phone, you can visit in-person, or you can request that they mail you a summary letter listing all suspensions and/or blocks and the fines you owe to remove them. You may also view your reinstatement requirements online.

If you need to have your license reinstated (get your license back) and you are eligible, you can do this by mail (takes 7-10 business days) or in-person. In-person is faster, but call first to make sure you bring the correct documents. If your license was suspended because you did not pay child support, you must pay what the Cuyahoga Office of Child Support Services requires before you can get your license reinstated. See page 8 for detailed information.

There is usually a fee to reinstate your license and this will vary depending on the number and type of offenses. Those who owe over $150 in reinstatement fees and who have met all other requirements for reinstatement with the exception of owing reinstatement fees, have proof of current auto insurance, do not have any pending suspensions, and who are not already on a court ordered payment plan may be eligible to make monthly payments on their reinstatement fees ($50 per month). Application for the payment plan is through the web site, by mail (takes 7-10 days), or in person at a Reinstatement Center. There is no agency in Cuyahoga County that pays the reinstatement fee. The Reinstatement Center in Cuyahoga County is listed below.

DRIVER’S LICENSE RENEWALS/DUPLICATES/NEW LICENSES

If you need a duplicate copy of your driver’s license (because your license was confiscated or lost), a new license, or you need to renew your license, contact the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles. If your license has been expired for more than six months, you will need to purchase the temporary packet and retake the driving test.

If you have a Release Identification Card (see page 57), you can use this as the only form of ID needed to get a driver’s license (as long as there are no conflicts between what is on the card and what is on the BMV record). If you do not have the card, you must provide proof of the following: full legal name, date of birth, Social Security number, proof of residency, and citizenship or legal alien status. Several forms of documents are acceptable. Visit the website or call for a list of acceptable documents.

Current fees (as of 2015) are: Temporary Instruction Permit: $22; Driver’s License Renewal: $25.75; Duplicate Driver’s License: $24.50.

You can walk in to any license agency for service. There are many locations in Cuyahoga County. The downtown location is listed below.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE/CAR INSURANCE

In Ohio, it is illegal to drive any motor vehicle without insurance or other financial responsibility (FR) proof. It is also illegal for any motor vehicle owner to allow anyone else to drive the owner’s vehicle without FR proof.

If you are asked to show proof of insurance or financial responsibility for a traffic violation and cannot, you will be required to pay $150 and file a bond (or SR22) for the first offense. Your driver’s license may also be suspended for a variety of traffic violations and other offenses.

STATE ID

If you do not have a valid driver’s license, you can apply for a State ID Card. There are two forms of a State ID — temporary and permanent. If you have a suspended driver’s license that has not yet expired and you plan on driving again, ask for a temporary ID. If you get a permanent ID, you'll have to re-take the exam if you want to drive again. An application for a permanent State ID will cancel out your driver’s license. Make sure you know the status of your driver’s license before you apply for a State ID.

If you have a Release Identification Card (see next page), you can use this as the only form of ID needed to obtain a State ID. If you do not have that, you must have two documents to obtain a State ID: one that verifies your name and birth date (like a certified birth certificate) and another that proves your Social Security number (such as a Social Security card). Several forms of documents are acceptable. Visit the website or call for a list of acceptable documents.

The current fee for a State ID is $8.50. You can walk in to any license agency for service. There are many locations in Cuyahoga County. The downtown location is listed below.

RELEASE IDENTIFICATION CARD

A free, non-replaceable photo ID will be given to you on the day of your release if you have a Social Security number that can be verified by the Social Security Administration. The card will include your birth date and Social Security number. You can show this card to the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles as documentation to get a State ID, temporary permit or driver’s license. However, you still have to pay the cost of getting the license, permit or State ID.

RELEASE PAPERS

If you do not have to be supervised when you are released – called “straight release,” then you will receive a document called Expiration of Sentence. It is also known as an Expiration of Stated Term. It proves you are no longer under the supervision of the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction. Keep this document.

If you have to be supervised, then you will receive a Parole Certificate or a Post Release Control Certificate informing you of who your parole officer is and where you should report. For more information on Parole / Post Release Control, see page 76.

During incarceration, you may have participated in a program to earn a Certificate of Achievement and Employability (CAE); the program involves vocational training, cognitive/behavioral training, and community service. If you have earned a CAE and need to verify or obtain a copy, contact the following office:

A word about your GED:

Although completion of your GED is noted on your inmate educational transcript, some employers or schools may want a copy of your GED transcript. If you need a copy of your GED transcript, you must request it through a national website. There is a cost (generally about $15). Go to gedtesting.service.com.

Inmate Medical / Mental Health Records

When you are provided with health or mental health care while in prison, these services are either noted on paper or in an electronic health record. These documents become your Healthcare Record.

Only a licensed doctor or a lawyer can request your medical and mental health records, and only with your permission. You cannot request your own medical record. The Social Security Administration and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs may also request a copy of your record because they have licensed doctors on staff.

A copy of the record is free and it will come in the form of a CD. You are only allowed ONE request per patient/client in a 12-month period. Requests generally take 10-14 days to process.

All requests must be in writing on official letterhead and must include the following:

- A Medical Release form signed by the patient/client
- First and last name of the patient/client
- Inmate number or both Social Security number and birth date
- Explanation of what you need
- Return address of the requesting professional – as noted above, a doctor or lawyer

RECOVERY SERVICES - RECORDS

If you participated in an alcohol and/or other drug recovery program while in prison, and you need a record of this, you may contact the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections. The procedure to request your records is the same as requesting a Certification of Incarceration (see page 57).

Selective Service Registration

The Selective Service System is the agency of the United States government that exists to register men who could be asked to help the military in a time of war or other national crisis. Almost all male U.S. citizens and male aliens living in the U.S. (including undocumented immigrants), who are age 18 through 25, are required to register. Eligible people are automatically registered when issued a driver’s license or State ID. Registration forms are also available at post offices or online. Registration is free.

When someone reaches age 26, they can no longer register. If they were born on or after January 1, 1960 and did not register before they turned 26, they may be ineligible for certain federal benefits, including U.S. citizenship, job training programs, state and municipal jobs, and student financial aid. However, they can still get a driver’s license or State ID in the State of Ohio.

Expungement of Adult Criminal Records

Expungement is the sealing of a criminal record (convictions, acquittals, dismissals, etc.). If your record is expunged, you don't have to tell people that you have been convicted, arrested, or charged when you apply for most jobs or housing. However, your expunged convictions can still be seen by certain employers and law enforcement agencies, and your fingerprints will not be sealed. The expungement process can take six to eight months. It is up to a judge whether to grant your request.

ELIGIBILITY FOR EXPUNGEMENT OF CONVICTIONS

- Expungement of convictions is only for eligible offenders with no charges pending and no arrest warrants. If two or more convictions are connected with the same act, they may count as one conviction. Three offenses that occurred within a 90-day period and were tried at the same time may count as one conviction.

- People who have committed certain crimes are not eligible for expungement. Those crimes include, but are not limited to, sexual crimes, first or second degree felonies, crimes committed while armed, felonies involving a minor (except for non-payment of support), convictions with a mandatory prison term, motor vehicle crimes (including DUIs), and crimes of violence except for a simple misdemeanor assault.

- For felony convictions, you must wait at least three years from the time you are off probation, parole or straight release and after all court costs and any fines, restitution or community service have been paid or completed. However, if all you have left to pay are court costs (you've paid your restitution and fines), you might qualify for expungement.

- For misdemeanor convictions, you must wait at least one year from the time you were convicted and after all court costs and any fines, restitution or community service have been paid or completed. However, if all you have left to pay are court costs (you’ve paid your restitution and fines), you might qualify for expungement.

ELIGIBILITY FOR SEALING RECORDS OTHER THAN CONVICTIONS

- You do not have to be a first-time offender to get a dismissal, finding of not guilty (acquittal) or nolle sealed from your record. There is no waiting period. You can apply right away. However, if you have more than one conviction, the court may not seal the record.

- If you were indicted and the grand jury returned a no bill, you must wait two years to file. You do not have to be a first-time offender to file.
Legal Assistance

- If you successfully completed a Diversion Completion or Treatment in Lieu of Incarceration program, there is no waiting period. You can apply right away.
- If you were arrested and released (no court was involved), you do not need to file for expungement or record sealing with the court. You can write a letter to the chief of police or head of the law enforcement agency that arrested you and request that he or she remove or seal your arrest record. You do not have to be a first-time offender to request this. However, whether your request is approved is up to the discretion of the chief.

GETTING HELP WITH EXPUNGEMENT

You file your motion for expungement in the court where you were charged. For example, if you were charged with a felony in Cuyahoga County, your expungement paperwork would be filed with the Cuyahoga County Clerk of Courts. Make sure you keep a copy of all paperwork that you complete.

Cuyahoga County Clerk of Courts
Criminal Division ............................................... 216-443-7985
1200 Ontario St. 2nd Floor, Cleveland, OH 44113
Does not provide legal assistance or forms for expungement. Remember to ask them about filing a “Poverty Affidavit” form. This form requests that the court waive the filing fee, which is usually $50.

It is recommended that you file for expungement with the help of an attorney. If you cannot afford one, you may be able to get help from the following organizations.

Cuyahoga County Public Defender............................................... 216-443-7223
310 Lakeside Ave. Ste. 400, Cleveland, OH 44113
Helps people complete the paperwork to expunge convictions from cases processed through Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court. This office will help determine if your offense is eligible for expungement. In most cases, you file the paperwork “pro se” (on your own – without an attorney). However, if you successfully completed a diversion or selective intervention program, they may actually be able to represent you. Walk in for assistance or call and they will mail you a packet. Once forms are completed, you will be directed about how and where to file.

Expungement and Sealing of Juvenile Records

You file for expungement or sealing in the court where your case was handled. In Cuyahoga County, this would be the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court. Expungement means that your record is destroyed and it is like you never had one. Sealing means that your record is “hidden” and that most people/organizations cannot see your record, but there are some exceptions.

- If your case was dismissed, or you were found not delinquent, you would apply to have your record expunged.
- If you were found to be delinquent, unruly or a juvenile traffic offender, you would apply to have your record sealed. You have to wait at least six months from the termination of the court order or your unconditional discharge from the Ohio Department of Youth Services in order to apply. There is a fee.
- After your record has been sealed, it will automatically be expunged after a five year period or upon your 23rd birthday (whichever comes first). However, you can apply to have your record expunged at any time after it is

- A pardon grants forgiveness of guilt. A pardon does not erase or seal your conviction. If granted, you will get a certificate from the governor. This certificate may be helpful in getting a job or in other areas. It may not restore all of your civil rights and privileges – but it can be useful for obtaining certain types of employment. A pardon is generally requested by those who have served their time, are no longer under supervision and are now living crime-free. However, anyone may apply.

- A commutation is the reduction of a penalty to one less severe. Commutations are generally requested by inmates serving extremely long minimum or definite sentences. Commutations are generally requested by inmates serving a sentence.

- A reprieve is the temporary postponement of the execution of a sentence. This is rarely used except for inmates sentenced to death.

Mental Health / Counseling

Mental health deals with how your brain functions, and with your emotions and feelings. It deals with how you interact with others, how you react to change or stress, and your self-esteem.

People who need help from mental health professionals may feel depressed, angry or not able to cope with parts of their lives. They may simply need to talk to someone about a life problem.

If you are diagnosed with a mental health issue while in prison, you will meet with a Community Linkage Social Worker before you are released. This social worker will make an appointment for you at a mental health agency in the community. If you are taking medication, the institution you are leaving will provide you with a two-week supply upon release.

If you have not been diagnosed in prison, and you are reading this after your release, the following may help:

- If you feel out of control or suicidal, seek help right away. Call Frontline Services—Crisis/Suicide Hotline at 216-623-6888. Remember to call 911 if your situation is life-threatening or a medical emergency.
- If you need someone to talk to, Recovery Resources has a warmline where recovering mental health consumers will listen and provide assistance. Call 440-886-5950 between 9am and 1am.
- If you have a doctor, talk to him or her about a referral to a mental health professional.
- If you have health insurance, call your health insurance company. Some or all of your treatment, including prescriptions, may be paid through your insurance. If you are on Medicaid or Medicare, make sure you understand what is covered. Go to a professional that accepts Medicaid or Medicare. If you do not have Medicaid or Medicare, you may want to apply. See page 27 for information.
- If you are having trouble dealing with anger, personal issues, stress, depression, trauma, sexual abuse or other mental health issues that are getting in the way of work, relationships or daily activities, you should seek help.

There are many other places that offer treatment, counselors and support groups that can help you sort things out. Call United Way 2-1-1, 24 hours a day/7 days a week for information and referrals to places that offer these services.

Mailing Address / Phone

Mailing Address

The address where you have your mail sent to is called your mailing address. Most people use the address where they live as their mailing address. If you do not have a permanent address or think you may be moving a lot, you should establish one place to pick up your mail. A few options are listed below.

- Check with the shelter, halfway house, transitional housing or other residential facility where you are living to see if they will allow for your mail to be sent there.
- The following places will let you use their address as your temporary mailing address. You can have your mail sent there and they will keep it for you until you can pick it up. You must arrange for this service before you have your mail sent there.

Bishop Cosgrove Center ............................................. 216-781-8262
West Side Catholic Center ............................................. 216-631-4741

- A post office box (PO Box) is a locked box located on the wall in the post office where your mail will be delivered. A key to open the box will be given to you. Only you will have a key. You will have to go to the post office where your box is located to pick up your mail. Some items such as packages may not be sent to a post office box. There is a monthly fee for a post office box. The smallest box will cost around $30-$50 for six months.
- To apply for a post office box, you will have to walk in to the post office branch where you would like your mail sent. Before going in, it is best to phone first to find out if boxes are available at that location. To find the address, phone number and hours for your local post office, phone 800-275-8777 or go to www.usps.com.

Phone

If you are homeless, the drop-in centers listed on page 12 may have a phone available for your use. If you are renting or own a home and are low income, ask the phone company about a program called “Lifeline” or “Link Up” for discounted service.

Money Management

If you have a history of managing your money well, you may have a better chance of getting a job, a car, a house and other things. Managing your money means paying your bills on time, sticking to a budget, building good credit and minimizing debt. A list of organizations that can help you manage your money appears at the end of this section.

Checking and Savings Accounts

Your first step when you have an income is to open up a checking account. This is a bank or credit union account that allows you to write checks and/or use a debit card so you can pay your bills easier. It also helps protect your money from being lost or stolen.

- Open an account with a bank or credit union close to your work or home.
- Aim for a free checking account that has no minimum balance (the amount of money you have to keep in the account to get the service), low initial deposit and no monthly fees.
- Some banks have “second chance” programs for people who have been turned down for checking accounts and are listed in ChexSystems (for writing bad checks, having lots of overdrafts, etc.) There may be a minimum amount you need to deposit and other restrictions, but this may be a very good way to get a checking account.
- Some nonprofit organizations may help you open an account or help you save. See page 74 for a list of organizations.

To open an account, just walk into the bank. You will generally have to provide:

- Your first and last name and address
- Social Security Number
- Driver’s license or State ID
- If your driver’s license or State ID was issued in the last 60 days, you may need verification of address such as pay check stub, recent utility bill or other official correspondence (SSI, unemployment, etc.) with your name and current address.

Budgeting

As soon as you have income coming in, you should create a budget to help you pay your bills. A budget lists all of your expenses and how much you can spend on each item such as rent and food.

Try to go easy on your expenses until you can establish that you have enough money to pay for everything. Prioritize your “needs” over your “wants”. Don’t buy new cars or expensive clothes, don’t spend a lot of money going out to eat, don’t buy extras like cable/DISH and watch your phone expenses until you know you can afford it.

Pay your bills before you spend money on things like clothes and entertainment.

- Make a list of all the bills you have to pay and the dates they are due.
- If you are paying your bills by mail, mail them at least one week before the due date.
- Don’t pay attention to “grace periods.” Just make it a habit to pay your bills at least a week before the due date.
- Make paying credit cards or bank loans (including car loans) a high priority. Nonpayment can affect your credit.
- Paying your rent or mortgage should also be a priority.
- Stay up to date on your insurance.
- Stay current on your utilities.
Money Management

- Work with an agency that will help you budget. See page 73 for a list of organizations.
- Check to see if you're eligible for cost-saving programs, like utility assistance, food stamps, etc.
- Steer clear of payday loans or title loans. The interest rates are very high and can very well put your budget further behind. They're not worth it.

Debt

If you are having trouble paying your bills, there are agencies that can help you set up a budget and work with your creditors to arrange payment plans. There are even agencies that can help with a gambling problem if that is what is causing the debt. As soon as you sense you are having a problem paying your bills, contact one of the organizations listed on page 74.

Credit

When you buy things using “credit,” a company gives you a loan that you are promising to pay back a little at a time. You are borrowing someone else’s money. When you get a loan to buy a car, you are using credit. When you buy something at a department store using a credit card, you are also using credit.

It is important for you to build a good “credit history” if you ever want to get a home loan, auto loan or get good interest rates on your credit cards. A credit history is simply a record of how you use credit.

There are people who have a bad credit history because they do not pay their bills on time, and there are people who have no credit history because they never had any loans or credit cards.

If you have never had any credit, it is very important to start building your credit history. Without a credit history, it may be hard to get a car, a job, rent, or start phone service and other services. You may be turned down or you may be asked to pay a high interest rate. The interest rate is the amount you are being charged to borrow that money.

Tips on Building a Credit History:

- Before you apply for credit, make sure you have steady, verifiable income.
- Try to stay at one job and live at one address for as long as you can.
- Before you apply for any credit card, make sure that the lender reports to a credit bureau. If not, you will not be building your credit history!
- Get a card with NO ANNUAL FEE if possible.
- Watch out for high interest rates. Shop around for the best rates before you decide to apply. READ THE FINE PRINT.

- If you think you cannot get a credit card on your own, you may be able to get a secured loan at a local bank or credit union — the loan amount is placed in a savings account and cannot be taken out until the loan is paid back — but it builds credit, and after the payments are made, the account is available and has earned a little interest.
- Open a bank account. This makes you look better to a lender. If you need more information about this, see page 70.
- Only apply for the credit cards whose requirements you think you meet — there are usually minimum income requirements. Getting turned down a lot looks bad.
- Don’t apply for a bunch of credit cards at once or obtain more credit cards than you truly need. It is best to only apply for one card at a time. When you apply for credit, an inquiry appears on your credit report and alerts creditors that you are applying for credit. If you apply for more than one card at a time, creditors may become suspicious of fraud.
- Secured credit cards are a last resort, but are an option. These cards require you to pay a deposit to get the card — the deposit could be a few hundred dollars. If you don't make your payments, you may lose your deposit AND still have to pay your balance. These cards often have fees and higher interest rates. Try to find the lowest fee you can. After a few months of making payments on time on the secured credit card, you may be able to get a regular credit card.

Maintaining Good Credit:

- To avoid paying a lot of interest, it is best to pay off the balance in full and on time every month.
- At the very least, you must pay the minimum payment in full and on time every month.
- Don’t pay attention to “grace periods.” Just make it a habit to pay your bill at least a week before the due date.
- If you think you need help understanding your options or you need help managing your credit, contact one of the organizations listed below. There may be a fee for some services.
- Check your credit report often. This will ensure you can quickly detect mistakes or potential identity theft, which can negatively affect your credit in the future.

Income Taxes

The money you make, such as your inmate income or money you earn on a job, may need to be reported to the government. There are federal, state and local government taxing agencies. At the end of each year, you may be required to “file” a tax return with each agency. It is the law that employers and others mail out the documents you will need for your tax returns by January 31st of each year. The W2 form is the most common.

You may not be required to file certain tax returns if your income is very low or in some other situations. However, you may want to file just to see if you can get money back – a tax refund.

There are free programs to help you file if you make less than $60,000 per year. These programs will do your taxes for you. They will not force you to file. Many sites offer both paper filing and free electronic filing (E-File) which allows you to receive your refund fast. If you have a checking or savings account, you could get a direct deposit in 7-10 days. To locate a free tax preparation site in your area, call United Way 2-1-1, 24 hours a day/7 days a week for help.

Watch out for places offering you an immediate refund. These refunds are actually loans called Refund Anticipation Loans (RALs). They could keep as much as half of your refund as a fee. And, if your refund is less than they thought, you could owe them money. Remember, there are free tax preparation sites available to you.

VOTING

Formerly incarcerated people are allowed to vote in the State of Ohio even if they have a felony conviction, as long as they meet all other general eligibility requirements for voting (U.S. citizen, age 18 or older on the day of the election, meet residency requirements, etc.). Those who are sentenced to probation are on parole are eligible to register and vote.

People who have never voted before need to register before they can vote. Those who were incarcerated due to a felony conviction need to re-register to vote, even if they have registered before. Also, if you have moved you need to re-register to have your current voting address on file.

Be prepared to have the last four digits of your Social Security number or your driver’s license number handy when you register (this will prevent you from having to send in additional paperwork), as well as your permanent address. New voters will need to register at least 30 days before the election and keep their current address up to date with the board of elections. Online address change is now available for people already on the registration rolls. Registration is free.

Voter registration forms are available at libraries, Bureau of Motor Vehicle offices, County Boards of Elections and other locations.

Federal Poverty Guidelines

Each year, the federal government establishes guidelines for what it considers poor. These guidelines are used to determine eligibility for certain social service programs such as Head Start, Food Stamps, WIC and others. You may hear about this if you apply for benefits.

The guidelines below are for 2015. Agencies that use these guidelines to determine eligibility for their services may be using the current or former year’s guidelines. The table below represents 100% of the federal poverty guidelines. Some programs state that you can qualify up to 200% of the federal poverty guidelines. For those programs, just double the amount listed below to get the income cap.

Going Home To Stay: A Guide for Successful Re-entry was created for men and women coming out of prison who are returning to Cuyahoga County. This guide gives practical information about how to prepare for release, and the steps to take to begin a new life outside of prison. It provides information about services such as health care, housing, clothing, legal assistance, employment and other programs that are available to help people re-enter the community successfully.

The process of re-entry is about making change and having the information needed to be successful. This book offers guidance on topics that are important for us all to be successful – getting a job, building credit, registering to vote, getting an education and connecting with our families and communities.

Going Home To Stay is the result of talking and working with many successful and determined men and women who have served their time in prison. They have returned to Greater Cleveland and have made a new life for themselves. They share their ideas in this booklet.
